

Strike Threatens Phila. Car-Bus Line

Mediator Offers 'Peace Formula'

Transportation Company Refuses Flat Ten Cents Per Hour Increase

STRIKE WOULD KNOT VITAL WAR INDUSTRY

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10.—Union and management officials were closeted with state and federal labor mediators today in an 11th hour attempt to forestall a city-wide strike by some 8,000 employees of the Philadelphia Transportation Co. Hope of settlement of the wage dispute was seen in a "peace formula" presented by State Mediator Charles J. Kutz. Shoups today's conferences flat, however, union members are to vote tonight on whether to answer the company's flat refusal of a 10-cent-an-hour wage boost by declaring a strike or calling upon the WLB to arbitrate the matter.

Union President Frank P. Carney said that tension among the employees is mounting and that "I'm unable to say what they are likely to do."

City officials gravely pointed out that a strike of the transportation system would hopelessly tie-up a great mass of the nation's vital war production, since workers would be unable to get to their jobs.

The base pay is 33 cents an hour for an average 48-hour week.

REPORT DASCH AND BURGER AGREE TO TESTIFY FURTHER

was believed that Dasch and Burger will be called as witnesses against the 10 even though more serious charges are not filed.

Dasch and Burger, now held in the District of Columbia jail where their six companions were executed, ultimately are expected to be committed to the Atlanta or Leavenworth federal penitentiary. Technically, they are again department of justice prisoners. Dasch is under sentence to serve 30 years in jail and Burger, more spend the rest of his life behind prison bars.

Meanwhile, the bodies of the six saboteurs who paid the supreme penalty in the electric chair lay in the morgue at Walter Reed hospital, pending a presidential ruling on the legal question involved in their disposition. Those who died were John Edward Kerling, Herbert Haupt, Richard Quirin, Werner Thiel, Herman Neubauer and Heinrich Heinck.

Dispute of Bodies
Three possible decisions on disposition of the bodies were cited: That they might be buried on federal property, be interred on private grounds or be turned over to relatives or friends. Selection of a burial ground was viewed as a touchy question, as private burial might open claims of relatives while interment on federal grounds might touch off disputes. Involved, too, were proper interpretations of international law, which provides among other things that no aliens, executed prisoners or others may be buried in unmarked graves.

No claims for the bodies had yet been made by relatives. Army authorities, it was learned, made a list of relatives of all of the dead. Only two of them, Haupt and Kerling, are known to have relatives in the United States. Haupt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Haupt, are in jail and Kerling's wife, Marie, has been interned.

Neubauer, it was also learned, married a girl in Chicago in the 20's, but the whereabouts of his wife are unknown. If the bodies of the six are not claimed, it was believed that they will be buried in marked graves for the duration of the war, and that after the war relatives in Germany will be given a chance to claim the bodies.

It was also possible that the body of the 22-year-old Haupt, the "baby" of the saboteur group, could be claimed by his parents through an undertaker acting for them.

Look It Calmly
Each of the six spies, it was learned, walked to the death chair without help or consolation and died calmly. None made any demonstration—no cries of "Heil Hitler" or displays of physical protest.

The next phase of the German sabotage plot is expected to unfold when the 10 alleged accomplices are tried. With the military proceedings which led to the execution of the six spies now out of the way, trial dates are expected to be set soon.

Six of the purported accomplices—Mr. and Mrs. Haupt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilhelm Froehling and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wergin—are held in Chicago.

Four others—Helmut Leiner, Hedwig Engeman, Anthony Craner and Herman Fajé—are held in New York.

and the president out of state politics. That now appears to have been an erroneous assumption.

The president has taken a definite stand behind Mead in opposition to Farley and Farley's candidate who was chairman that he was not interested in the nomination.

Mr. Roosevelt allowed Mead to quote him as saying that he, the president, would pick a man like Mead for the governorship. A few days ago when the president was asked if Mead was an isolationist, he said he is not.

minus toe covering were not much use, especially when trying to get across a wide expanse of water in the gutters; three ladies having much fun, hurried along, all seeking shelter under one umbrella; a man in his working clothes, walked along nonchalantly through the rain; a young lady remarked, "where are our boy friends now, with their cars, they only come around at night." Everybody seemed to take their predicament in good humor.

Have you seen the mechanized transportation vehicle, painted red, very low-slung and about the size of a child's toy auto, that has two wheels about 8 inches in diameter in front, and one the same size in the rear? It put—putted around the Diamond at noon, with the driver as the only one on board.

Creek. He got half way across and was swept away. Lloyd plunged after him but could not save his employer and had to be rescued himself by 18-year-old Charles Hayes.

The Coatesville area on the west branch of the Brandywine and the Doylestown area on the east branch were the main flood targets. Water inundated vast crops in the Doylestown area.

The main line of the Pennsylvania railroad was blocked between Parkersburg and Lancaster for six hours when one of the wire poles was weakened and fell at an angle crippling the power lines. The Phoenixville tunnel of the Reading Railway was also blocked for a short time.

One train was delayed by mud and silt washed on the tracks. Nearly all homes and some factories were inundated in the towns of Paperville, Rock Run and Mortonville near Coatesville as the floods showed their greatest fury in those sections.

Scores of spectacular rescues and scenes of tragic destruction occurred as the waters surged throughout the three county area of Chester, Bucks and Montgomery.

DEATH TOLL HIGH AS POLICE ROUT CROWDS

at least partly who supported a civil disobedience campaign to win immediate independence from British rule.

Rioters in Bombay staged "bottle parties" in which empty soda bottles were hurled at cars containing British or Americans.

Truckloads of British soldiers were held in readiness for what is feared the most—communal riots between Hindus and Moslems. What authorities described as "some trouble" was reported in the Northbrook Gardens section of Bombay, junction of Moslem and Hindu districts. Hindus were reported to have thrown stones at Moslem shops, which is the way these serious riots invariably start.

Students in schools and colleges in Bombay left their classrooms, on strike, and joined the throngs who held up and stoned busses and street cars.

Ten Killed
Ten persons were reported killed in Bombay while at least two others lost their lives in other cities as a half dozen Indian centers became scenes of mass disorder following the early-Sunday arrest of the wizened old leader who called for non-violent, passive resistance in an effort to win freedom for India.

Two policemen were among those killed. More than 100 more were wounded or injured as police fired into crowds, and used tear and smoke bombs in an effort to disperse the mobs.

A dawn to dusk curfew went into effect Sunday night, but Gandhi followers roamed through the streets again today, holding up and stoning trolley cars in the northern section of the city. Work was suspended in several of Bombay's mills and markets.

Armed police patrolled the disturbed area trying to prevent a repetition of Sunday's violence, which flamed into bloody fury in several of the leading cities in this land of 390,000,000 people.

The impassioned followers of Gandhi, disregarding his pleas for non-violence, paraded angrily, firing busses and trams, holding outlaws mass meetings and throwing stones and bottles at police.

Authorities ordered curfew rules and made mass meetings illegal in an effort to stem the violence that threatened the nation within at a time when the Japanese are menacing "Mother India" from just across her borders.

Gandhi Fasting?
As India rocked with violence Sunday, reports that Gandhi himself, arrested and held at Poona, had begun the "fast unto death" that he had threatened as a means of rallying Indians to his cause.

The British arrested 250 leaders of the Congress party, including Gandhi, his wife, his chief lieutenant, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru; Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, president of the party; Bombay's mayor, Meherally; Miss Sridevi Gandhi's British secretary, and many others.

In addition, some 200 of the humble followers of the former Mahatma were taken into custody.

Two of the total killed in the rioting were members of the police. In Bombay alone, 7,000 policemen were on duty and had been for 72 hours without sleep. Police leaves were cancelled and reserves called up.

In one Bombay park, 20,000 persons gathered, demonstrating noisily, jeering at police and heaving stones and bottles.

News Man Attacked
The car of International News Service correspondent, W. W. Chaplin, was stoned as he toured the city, and later a fanatical Hindu leaped upon Chaplin's back, only to be thrown off by other Hindus who formed a protective cordon around him, shouting that he was an "American war correspondent and a friend of India."

In addition to Bombay, there was rioting at Allahabad, Ahmedabad, Lahore, Nagpur and Poona.

Authorities moved swiftly, realizing the peril of an India with her communications severed, banning public gatherings and imposing curfews.

This most serious of Gandhi's non-violence campaigns of civil disobedience followed the course of other-violence flared into mob fury despite the 48-pound leader's urging that passive resistance be the means followed.

The mobs shouted for immediate independence, as called for by the All-India Congress committee Saturday, as they paraded the streets.

'DO OR DIE' BATTLE RAGES IN CAUCASUS

clered they will defend every inch of native soil at the gateway to the Volga industrial city.

"South of Kietskaya," the communists said, "15 enemy tanks were destroyed and 400 Germans killed."

The battling was equally as bloody on the front northeast of Kotelnikovo 95 miles southwest of Stalingrad where German armies have sought to close the southern arm of a pincer drive on the city.

"Northeast of Kotelnikovo fierce fighting continued," the high command said.

"On one sector 20 tanks were destroyed and two battalions of infantry wiped out."

Around Voronezh, northernmost sector of the Don-Caucasus front, the capture of several inhabited localities on the west bank of the Don river was reported by the high command.

1,000 Slain
More than 1,000 Nazis were reported slain in the Soviet offensive action designed to strike at the rear of the German armies which have driven far to the south and disrupt their lines of communication.

Severe fighting was said to be still in progress in the Kropotkin area northwest of Armavir and 130 miles southeast of Stalin Rostov.

At midnight the red army command disclosed that Soviet forces defending Kropotkin had been pressed back by the Germans.

Two columns of Nazi forces are pounding against the Russian defenses in the Kuban valley of the west Caucasus. The first is driving against the region of Kropotkin in the direction of Krasnodar, on the rail lines to Stalingrad, and the Black sea naval base of Novorossiisk. The second is hammering the Armavir defenses in an effort to seize the Maikop oil fields.

German forces in the Kropotkin

This was followed 24 hours later by a second announcement that offensive operations were continuing, stressing that "considerable enemy resistance" had been encountered.

"It is still too early," the Navy said, however, "to announce results, or to estimate our own or enemy losses."

The second communique also disclosed that Australian units are participating with the American forces.

Get Clear Picture
Navy department spokesmen made it plain that this, the first major U. S. offensive of the war, was designed to commence re-taking positions against Jap-occupied positions. Experts believe that the results, when finally known, will give a clear picture of this nation's offensive power, and offer some indications of the price to be paid to regain territory which the Japanese took in the first seven months of the war.

Principal target of the offensive appeared to be Tulagi harbor on Florida island, which the Japs occupied early last May. The enemy has established its principal south Pacific base there and in attacking it, the United Nations chose the obvious point of greatest resistance.

Although it is conceded on all sides that such a major operation will result in substantial losses, Navy spokesmen were inclined to laugh off Jap claims made over the week-end as "typical" of the exaggerations which Tokyo has put forth at the start of every major engagement so far in this war.

There is a cure for war nerves. The ones who get jittery are those who wait and watch—not those who are too busy to think.

headquarters of Admiral Nimitz in Honolulu and Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Australia, Washington was convinced that the large-scale offensive was undertaken to thwart any further Japanese expansion in the Coral sea area which might bring the enemy closer to the south Pacific life-line which lies Australia to its one principal source of aid—the United States.

Announcement that the battle was under way came Saturday afternoon in a terse Navy communique.

LARGEST AND BEST

THE rapidly-growing American Army will be the best equipped in the world. America's output of weapons has become tremendous, while lend-lease export is not great enough to siphon off equipment needed by the nation's growing Army.

According to periodical announcements, all recipients of lend-lease aid had received less than $1,500,000,000 of finished military items up to July 1. From November to July American output of such items was eight times that amount.

Presumably the large amount of weapons not exported have gone to equip America's armed forces stationed in the United States or its territories or are impounded to equip forces yet to be created.

At any rate, it is evident that the Army is not lacking in weapons. The intention was to expand the Army to 3,600,000 men by the end of this year. Now the schedule is 4,500,000 men, and this may again be increased if the necessity arises. Plainly the country is prepared to turn out weapons and equipment as rapidly as the men can be trained to handle them.

America's goal now is the creation of the largest and the hardest hitting army of any nation, and abundance and excellence of equipment will go far toward consummation of the objective.

WAR AND INVENTIONS

War, as usual, is speeding inventions that improve existing devices. One recently patented is a less bulky and more accessible parachute. Another, also recently patented, is a new shell ejector for automatic firearms.

The parachute is the creation of Lieut. Com. A. B. Voseller of the Navy. It is folded in such a way that it requires less space than former types and is built directly into the back of the aviator's flight jacket. The rights to this patent are assigned to the government.

The improvement in firearms has to do with "blowback." In a blowback weapon the breechblock is pushed back by the force of the explosion, carrying the empty cartridge case along and ejecting it. A certain amount of powder-gas and grains of unburned powder always come along, eventually fouling the mechanism and interfering with the action.

N. L. Brewer, a civilian, by his invention facilitates clearance of these blowback gases and powder grains by providing a series of slots through the barrel opposite the ejection port.

JAPAN AND SIBERIA

London reports of a half-million Japanese troops on the Siberian border revive the question whether and when Japan will attack Russia. The Axis warlords presumably are awaiting the psychological moment. Certainly their ultimate aim is to join hands.

Japan already holds China in part, Manchukuo, French Indo-China, Malaya, Thailand and Burma. She is obviously engaged in securing Chinese railroads so as to more readily reach Burma and India without the risk of the sea, even protected as that is by her conquest of the Philippines and the East Indies. If Hitler hammers down through the Caucasus, the obvious juncture with the Germans is across India. That project may wait for the monsoon to be opened, but neither weather nor terrain has stopped the Japs so far.

But there is another factor which Tokyo has never forgotten. Russia's Siberia has its ocean terminal at Vladivostok and Japan will never feel safe until Russia has been pushed back from the sea, and until her Siberian air bases have been seized or put out of action. Eastern Siberia is just as much a part of Japanese ambitions as the lands she has already conquered.

At the close of World War I, Japan obtained a foothold and did not withdraw from Vladivostok and Siberia until late in 1922. Since then the Japanese penetration has worked through Manchukuo and Mongolia. Siberia is still definitely an area that Japan has slated for conquest—the when and how possibly depending on Hitler's rate of progress in the Caucasus.

SCOOP OF THE YEAR

Every newspaper man dreams of the day when he will turn in a scoop on a story of national significance. In these days of high speed transmission and detailed coverage by wire services, such scoops are rare. An hour's scoop is an achievement but one of 29 hours and eleven minutes is something that only a fiction writer could imagine.

But it happened, and Jack Vincent of International News Service pulled it off, in the coverage of the execution of the six saboteurs in Washington, D. C.

On Friday, August 7th, Mr. Vincent filed a complete story on the fate of the saboteurs, telling of the President's agreement with sentence of the trial commission, naming the men to be executed and the two to be spared. No other service had the story on Friday and rival services inferred that no such action had been taken. As a client of International News, the New Castle News carried the story on Friday, with pictures. Not until Saturday afternoon did other services have the story, 29 hours and eleven minutes after Vincent.

Saturday's events verified in every detail Mr. Vincent's story. It was the "scoop of the year" if not in the past five years. It was an example of alert, intelligent reporting that adds additional lustre to the record of International News.

How Jack Vincent got the story is not important. The fact is he got it, got it first and got it right. In a newspaper man's life there is nothing more you can say.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CRABBED CHILD MAY BE HUNGRY

Ever so many tots and runabouts are irritable late in the afternoon. Something to eat might cheer them up. Of course there is the danger of spoiling the appetite but for many children this is no problem at all. A little experience by his parents would clear up the matter.

Of course, the child who likes to have something to eat in the afternoon or on return from school needs to learn to exercise discretion in what he chooses. For him to take the cake or pie planned for the dinner dessert might inconvenience the mother. Nor is it good for his moral character to be so selfish as not to consider the needs and plans of the family group. A little foresight and planning by the mother, however, should take care of this, provided the child has learned to respect her word.

Hunger and Sleep Problems
Many babies and young children sleep poorly, or cry excessively at night, because of hunger; a few because of over-eating. While the food might be sufficient in quantity it might lack in quality. Always it is well to consult the doctor about the young child's diet in case he cries much or sleeps poorly.

Some children, though very hungry long before their regular meal time, may become so irritable and weary when the meal-time arrives as to have a poor appetite then. These children should be guarded against too much excitement and fatigue, against too long periods of strenuous play, especially near meal-time. They would profit from calm, quiet amusement right before dinner.

Rest Before Eating

For very active children over four or five, rest or quiet play immediately before eating may be even more desirable than quietness after eating. Anyway, in these times of nervous strain, we parents need to try hard to promote calmness in our growing children whenever possible. Our first problem is to cultivate serenity in ourselves.

If you wish to read further about eating problems let me send you my special bulletin on this subject, at no cost to you. Just write me at 234 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it. You may also have my bulletin on the "Nervous Child."

'Tis not for fish alone they rise. When dawn is early in the skies. He'd be indeed a curious man Who'd basely serve his frying pan And make of day his dearest wish An ordinary mess of fish.

I'm sure the fishermen I know For something more than dinner go.

Our market fishermen are chaps Who set for profit nets and traps And they must early rise from bed To earn their children's daily bread; But those who fish for sport, delight.

In all that happens, left and right. In all things, beautiful and odd. Which mark the handiwork of God.

Thus in the water, two or three Can drop their lines and happy be. For round about them earth and sky And stream will endless charm supply.

Magic and marvel will unfold. Nature's great drama they'll behold And, in the name of fishing, they Will find enchantment for the day.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Here's high praise for low things. Long life is best attained through low mediums.

Low pulse rate, low blood pressure and low metabolism.

Even a regard for low humor aids long life.

Most persons are living at too high speed.

They become fatigued with the intensity of living.

Overworked individuals do not sleep well.

Worry, monotony and irritation also cause exhaustion.

Some people refuse to worry or to become irritated.

Calm people do not show fatigue like those "on edge."

Rest is one of the best tonics for the human body.

Not only physical rest, but mental rest, makes for long life.

Socially in the army among the commissioned ranks, the first two grades of second and first lieutenants are introduced as "Mr. and Mrs. Jones." Rank from captain up is introduced according to rank as Captain and Mrs. Brown.

People have been urged to buy their coal for next winter, but having some coal during the present summer was also a good thing.

After the rumor got out that the price of whisky would be raised, the liquor stores doubled their sales. Two things some people have to have and one of them is whisky—the other sugar.

About the only thing that will keep some birds from walking on the grass is a high fence and often there has to be barbed wire on it.

SLIGHTLY CONFUSED

An absent-minded bride, anxious not to forget to order two chickens for dinner, repeated to herself while clearing away the breakfast things: "Grocer, chickens; grocer, chickens."

The words became confused in her mind, so that when she went to the telephone she asked: "Have you any nice grocers?"

"Why—why—yes," replied an astonished voice at the other end of the wire.

"Well," said the bride, "send me two dressed."

"Dressed?" asked the voice, more astonished than before.

"Why, no," responded the bride. "I believe you may send them undressed. If my husband comes home early he will bring their necks and the cook can dress them."

The keeper of the local inn, which had a reputation for its very strong brew, was awakened at midnight by a loud knocking on the front door. Putting his head out of the window, he shouted:

"Go away! You can't have anything to drink at this hour."

"Who wants anything to drink?" was the response. "I left here at closing time without my crutches."

The government is planning to seal all the automobiles that have failed to make the safety inspection during the past year. How about the thousands of them rotting away in roadside auto graveyards?

That snappy short phrase, "It goes without saying," never kept a speaker from saying it.

Answer: Although the dinner or party call is not now so strictly adhered to as it was in former years, it should, nevertheless, be made up on the hostess in whose home one has taken a meal for the first time. This call should be made within a few days and not later than a week after the dinner.

Two of your cards—one for the hostess and one for the guest-of-honor and three of your husband's—one for the host, one for the hostess and one for the guest-of-honor should be left. If you are admitted by a servant, give him or her your card as you enter the door. Provided the servant has a card tray for the purpose. If she has none place your cards on the hall table, on which you will doubtless find a card tray. If your host and hostess are the kind of people who are socially punctilious, a card should not be put into the servant's hand.

After you have taken dinner in someone's home, do not that same evening, when you leave, issue an invitation for her to dine with you. Wait about a week or so and then invite her to come to your home.

Question: Please give me the rules for tipping the waitress when staying at a hotel for a week. Is it permissible to tip each night or should we wait until the end of our stay? Also is it necessary to tip the chambermaid at the end of the visit?—Mary.

hotel, give the waitress a substantial tip after your first meal and then again when you leave. At a European-plan hotel, it is customary to tip after each meal. Yes, tip the chambermaid on the first day and then again on your last day.

NO ALLIGATORS
The Florida beach and the blue sky looked inviting to the air corps recruit on leave from the replacement training center at Miami Beach, but before venturing out to swim he thought to make sure it was safe, so inquired of a native: "You're sure there are no alligators here?"

"No, sah," replied the native, "but before venturing out to swim he thought to make sure it was safe, so inquired of a native: "You're sure there are no alligators here?"

Reassured the recruit started out. As the water lapped about his chest, he called back: "What makes you so sure there aren't any alligators?"

"Dey's got too much sense," belloyed the native, "De sharks done skeered dem all away!"

A young candidate for the navy was being put through a general knowledge test by a board of admirals.

"What kind of animals eat grass?" one of them asked.

The candidate fidgeted and stared out of the window, but said nothing. The question was repeated but he still remained dumb.

"Surely," said one of the examiners, kindly, "you can answer a simple question like that? I will repeat it. What kind of animals eat grass?"

"Animals," gasped the boy. "I thought you said 'admirals'."

What's What At A Glance

Lack Of Mechanical Replacements Felt
Washington Feels Need Same As Others
Condition Becomes More Serious Daily

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—War-time prohibition of new mechanical gadgets for household and business purposes wouldn't be so bad if it were possible to keep the old ones in working order. The trouble is that the last generation of junk has begun to fall into disrepair and the skilled craftsmanship to fix it is lacking, being either in uniform or at work in arms factories.

Illustratively, suppose your typewriter gets out of kilter. You'll be lucky if, for love or money, you can find a guy who's competent to tinker with it.

Toilet facilities are turning ugly. Managers of big office buildings and hotels are half bughouse on the subject. A lot of elevators have started balking. Now and then a street railway switch refuses to function and a carload of passengers are inconvenienced, to say the least.

Automobiles aren't so much of a problem, because their owners can't get the gas to run them. Without fuel or tires an auto is no serious peril. It's lucky for pedestrians that such is the case, for traffic lights are becoming undependable, due to the scarcity of boys who understand their operation.

I surmise that Washington is the worst, in all these respects, of any center in the country, since it is by far the most congested. Our huge industrial cities must have enlarged their populations enormously, also, but they were big to begin with. The capital, comparatively, was a smallish burg, approximately doubled per capita inside a year or thereabouts. It makes a town ache to swell that fast.

In normal times a loyal Washingtonian would feel somewhat smug at the news of New York City being in the midst of a depression, while his own pet municipality is booming. He doesn't get that sensation now, though. He's too uncomfortable, he's cramped so.

New York's Case
Manhattan, it appears, never was industrial, except as a headquarters for dressmaking, millinery, gents' furnishings goods and banking. Dressmaking, millinery and gents' furnishings are having a rough time of it today, naturally. Retailing, generally, has run into trying times.

And big industry, as previously remarked, New York never did have much of. It wasn't a suitable place for it, its surface being so fully occupied. The enormous industrial towns have drained most of that off. Washington isn't one of them. But it's the focus.

Strange as it may seem, for several years I've had a small Washington bank account. I used to be able to go into my favorite loan and trust company, make my modest deposit and sneak out in two or three minutes.

A Banking Room
Today I fall in line with dozens of customers, stretching clear out into E street. As an old acquaintance, the teller treats me politely. I have to take afternoon off, though, to be attended to by Washington's finance is just suffocating; Manhattan's is gasping.

Now, suppose you, a Washingtonian, wanted a hired man of some sort?

Maybe you want him just to clear your yard. Maybe he's only a kid to deliver your newspaper.

Either you can't get him at all, or, if you can, he is so independent that he not only is boss. His nominal superior can't reprimand him, either. If you complain about it, he'll tell such superior to "go chase himself."

It'll be a pleasure to see some of these lads inducted—under orders. Maybe that'll teach 'em.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

A World War veteran was arrested in New York the other day for saying "We are losing the war."

Furthermore he was given 30 days in the workhouse.

We are trying to arrange to put the convicting magistrate on a quiz program.

We will ask him "are we winning the war?"

And we will let the audience judge the correctness of his answer.

At the moment we aren't winning and we aren't losing.

There is as much justification for committing a guy to the booby hatch for saying we are winning as for sending one to jail for saying we are losing.

Pollyannas are just as nauseating as pessimists.

Let's get that in the record now.

Thought for the day: "We're going to win the war... that's the way to phrase it."

And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.—Isaiah 35:10.

Bible Thought For Today

Swordfish are harpooned by commercial fishermen, due to their great size and dangerous "swords," which would rip a net. They have been known to pierce a dory. They are caught in the summer when they come to the surface to bask in the sun. Swordfish average well over 200 pounds.

Motor fuel taxation normally yields more state revenue than any other single type of state tax measure according to the Department of Commerce.

The World and the Mud Puddles

AND WHY NOT?

At first glance, it would seem that Congress would be defeating its own purpose by allowing a tax deduction for life insurance premiums, for, after all, what is needed now is more and more money to carry on the war in which our ships seem to be participating on every sea, our armed forces in almost every land and our war planes over sea and land.

On the other hand, such credits would be no innovation, for similar deductions have long been allowed in England, Australia and perhaps other countries.

The point is made that a deduction up to 15 per cent is now allowed for money given to organized charity. Then why, it is being asked, should one not be allowed to deduct a portion of life insurance premiums which are paid to keep one's family from charity?

There is, perhaps, a more important factor. Life insurance is about the only sound investment owned by the average family. In the last depression, it proved a resilient cushion, and is certain to help take up post-war shocks. And, too, as a hedge against inflation, use of excess national income for investing in insurance must be placed alongside paying off personal debts and purchase of United States war bonds. Money expended for these purposes has no inflationary effect, since to a large extent it flows back to the Federal Treasury to purchase government securities. In two months 42 per cent of insurance investment was for war bonds, and by the end of the year the total held by the insurance companies will have risen to seven and a half billion dollars.

This is a sum sufficient to build 9,000 pursuit planes, 15,250 medium tanks, or 200 modern destroyers. Perhaps the most important long-range point of all in favor of a limited reduction is that it would protect the insurance now being held so widely and prevent the breaking down of the great American tradition of provision for one's dependents.

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

For many a year the citizens of Kansas have wondered what good those awful prairie winds can possibly be. They have at last found out.

Arthur Cranston, a Republican candidate for office, was jogging peacefully along in his horse-drawn buggy, rehearsing a campaign speech which he was about to deliver in the little town of Mound Valley.

In one hand he held the manuscript, in the other the reins.

Suddenly a gusty gale blew the speech smack out of Cranston's hands and scattered it among the wheat and corn.

As the speechless speaker was about to alight to save whatever he could of the fleeting words, the horse switched its tail, switched off the man's glasses, stepped on them, with true Democratic malice, and galloped on.

Arrived in Mound Valley, Cranston improvised a talk, greatly abbreviated, and was enthusiastically applauded by his listeners.

Was it, after all, such an ill wind? Or does it not, perhaps, blow lots of good?

Oratory is partly reason, partly persuasion and mostly acting.

Put down on paper words often assume an importance, which when pronounced, smack of buffoonery.

Chatty Brunette Called Best Date At State College

(International News Service)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—Brunettes who dance well and are good conversationalists are the ideal date, according to applications received by the Independent Women's Association Dating Bureau at Pennsylvania State College.

Girls should not pay too much attention to advice to be a good listener, it was disclosed. The men defined a good conversationalist as one between a constant chatter and an unadulterated listener.

Of 79 male applicants, 21 rated conversational ability as essential, 17 demanded good dancers, 16 requested brunette dates, 16 voted for slenderness, 14 asked for a talkative date, 13 said the date should not be too quiet, 12 objected to too much makeup, 10 condemned snobbishness.

Only seven votes each were given to beauty, a sense of humor and intelligence; five favored good figures and five "a reasonable amount of reserve," four ruled out smoking and two vetoed wearing glasses. Three voted for blondes and two for red-heads.

Co-ed applicants rated height as a virtue, with 26 of the 64 specifying it. Ten co-eds objected to conceit, three to drinking, one to cigars, and one to glasses.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The battle of the Solomon Islands is still in a "delicate stage," the British radio reported today from a correspondent at an "advanced base," according to CBS.

Since the Japanese landed in the Solomons in June, the correspondent said, they have built at least three airfields and brought in a garrison of several thousand men. From these airfields and other positions, he said, the Japanese are undoubtedly putting up a strong fight against the Allied naval and air forces.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Reuter's news agency today quoted the Stockholm newspaper, Svenska Dagbladet, as reporting from Berlin that Nazi Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock's left wing in the Caucasus is advancing from Voroshilovsk in the direction of Ordzhonikidze, 50 miles southwest of Grozny.

In the latter case, said observers would have to dwell to the extent that the Nazis could turn loose a major portion of the Luftwaffe for cross-channel sweeps.

In any event, said informed circles, the Germans are due for a surprise from the new anti-ground and aerial defenses in Britain.

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—An indication of the intensity of air battles on the Russian front was given today in an announcement disclosing that Germany lost 400 and Russia 200 planes last week alone.

beginning has been, and in the summer of 1942 continues to be, hedged in by considerations wholly incompatible with total war, considerations which, moreover, if allowed to dominate, can result only in the gravest of consequences.

Four Recommendations

The report made four major recommendations for the achievement of full utilization of manpower and resources for the war effort.

1. That procurement policy and improved labor utilization "can no longer be left to the haphazard forces of competition between employers which to date has induced so much disorganized and unplanned migration. Production policies must now be framed with the utilization of labor as the primary production factor."

2. Assign responsibility for war labor recruitment to the United States employment service, and tie its functions more closely with the operations division of the manpower commission and the labor division of the War Production Board.

3. Adopt industrial occupational deferment from military service for skilled workers needed on the industrial production front.

4. Appropriate sufficient money to expand the United States employment service and the farm replacement service, and supply funds to carry out work on the 40,000,000 occupational questionnaires "which need analysis so that we may have adequate knowledge and use of existing labor supplies."

JAIL FOR TIRE THIEF

(International News Service)

PATCHOGUE, L. I., Aug. 7.—Frank T. Marino, 28, has the next 180 days in jail to pull over the fact that it doesn't pay to steal automobile tires even if you do a good deed beforehand.

Last week, Marino came upon Mrs. Madeline Stone, who had stopped her car by the roadside because the headlights were short-circuited.

He gave her a lift to her home several miles away, then returned to the parked car and removed two wheels, complete with tires.

Navy-WPB Clash Over Plane Order

Navy Apparently Balking On "Letter of Intent" to Henry J. Kaiser

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. — The war production board and the navy are believed to have clashed over a WPB announcement giving approval to Henry J. Kaiser, West Coast shipbuilder, for the construction of 500 giant cargo planes.
Donald M. Nelson, WPB chief, disclosed that approval had been given Kaiser to build 100 flying boats of the 70-ton type, developed by the Glenn L. Martin Co., of Baltimore, with 400 more to follow if the initial project is successful.
However, reports indicate that there has been a delay on issuance of a formal "letter of intent" and that the Navy department had balked on the subject. Informed sources said that if the Navy fails to sign the "letter of intent," it will be signed by Nelson.
Kaiser, who conferred with Nelson for an hour yesterday, said he had seen the draft of the letter and described it as "satisfactory." According to reports, it provided that Kaiser shall draw up his plans and report on his facilities and resources before receiving the actual contract.
In addition to the "consent" for construction of 70-ton cargo planes, it is reported that Kaiser will receive a letter of intent to proceed with engineering work on a giant 200-ton flying boat, although production will not be authorized.

Maintain Morale Is Council Plea

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 10.—Local American unity committees were urged today by the State Defense Council to spur efforts to maintain excellent civilian morale.

"During the past several months," stated Arthur R. Warnock, executive secretary of the Council's Advisory Committee, "the cooperative attitude of the people of Pennsylvania has been good, as tested by the results of their participation in projects comprising the war-time effort."

He added that the "acid test" of civilian morale was the cooperation of citizens with governmental requests for increased war efforts—including boosting purchases of war bonds and stamps.

"Assist in organizing public meetings and patriotic demonstrations periodically—not too often, but often enough to keep community attention away from local differences, frictions and hardships and on the common objectives of the war program," Warnock stated.

That Number Registered At City Center In North Street School

Over 1,000 New Castle landlords today had signed up in the Federal Rent Control registration at the North Street school registration station.

While the center was not jammed this morning, the crowd of landlords kept the volunteer workers busy.

The New Castle station, which remains open until August 15, is the registration point for all landlords in the city's eight wards. Daily hours are from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

She said Ellwood City's center will remain open until August 15. During the first few days of next week stations will also be open in New Wilmington and Bessemer.

Miss Mitchell said that landlords in doubt should make early inquiry to see whether or not they are affected under the current registration. Hotel and apartment owners will register later.

Presbyterians Will Be In Charge Of Cascade Park Service Next Sunday

Special music included two selections by the girls' quartet from the Arlington avenue church, two selections by Rev. and Mrs. D. D. Woods, and one selection by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Baker. The offering received is to go to the Ministerial Association to aid with the park services work.

Next Sunday evening, August 16, the park service will be conducted by the Presbyterian churches of the city with Dr. Robert Meade Patterson, Dr. J. McIlvaine and Rev. J. Victor Carlson as the committee in charge.

Legion Delegates Off To Convention

Pennsylvania Department Meeting Will Open At Pittsburgh Tomorrow

Delegates from the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, will go to Pittsburgh Tuesday evening for the opening of the 1942 department convention, which got actively under way on Wednesday morning.

The delegates from the post are: Commander Clarence S. Jarrett, Junior Vice Commander Fred C. Duff, James Cooper and Lee R. Hanna, and the alternates are Past Commander C. C. Sweeney, John Gaston, Harvey Bintrun and Ed Coyne.

The affair will culminate in the usual big parade on Saturday. Because of the nearness of the convention city, it is likely that a great number of local Legionnaires will attend some of the sessions and convention highlights during the week.

Kids Come Through With Records

They came, saw—and left behind for Uncle Sam's fighting men over 5,200 old but useful phonograph records.

"They" were the throng attending this morning's benefit film at the Regent theater under the joint auspices of the theater management, the Legion and Legion auxiliary.

The "price" of admission was five old records.

The benefit, believed to be the first in the nation, sponsored by a motion picture house, drew capacity attendances at the 10:15 and 11:30 showings of "Three Gauchos of Eldorado".

The records this afternoon are on their way to a destination to be melted over and made into new music-making discs.

BUS SITUATION CRITICAL

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 6.—Emphasizing that "school transportation cannot be continued as usual," the department of public instruction today directed county school officials to study local pupil transportation conditions to assure the maximum use of existing facilities to provide essential service.

Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent, said that the office of defense transportation had advised the department that new school buses will be strictly rationed. He said that the revenue department had modified requirements regulating purchase of new buses to enable prompt acquisition when buses were available under rationing.

"The present situation calls for the united efforts of all concerned to avert a possible breakdown in school transportation service which might affect the program in rural areas," Haas declared.

TOTAL COST WHEN REPAYED IN SIX MONTHLY INSTALMENTS

No endorsers or guarantors needed... A quick, simple way to get a cash loan at reasonable cost

Do you need an extra cash? Would you like to pay off old bills as part of your wartime financial program? The advertisement tells about a simple plan which is helping many men and women with their present day money problems.

Suppose you need $100 for an emergency or to pay off debts. You can get the money in a quick, simple transaction. Then you may repay on a regular monthly payment plan. At the end of a definite time you are entirely in the clear. The payment plan thus becomes a personal debt paying program.

The cost of this service is reasonable. Suppose you borrow $100 and repay in six monthly instalments of $18.15 each, a total of $108.90. The cost of your loan is just $8.90. A $50 loan, repaid in six monthly instalments of $9.08 each, a total of $54.48, costs only $4.48.

This service has been specially designed for folks with jobs. Many people have no car, furniture or other security on which to borrow. And they hate to ask friends to sign notes. Salary loans give these people an opportunity to borrow on earning ability and willingness to repay. When you get a salary loan you merely give us your personal note. We take no wage assignment of any kind. And no endorsers are required. We make many loans on other plans. The principal requirement is a job or other source of income. Even when making car and furniture loans, we consider character and regular income far more important than the actual value of your security.

You may use a Household loan to pay a doctor or dentist bill, insurance, instalment contracts, old store bills, car repairs, union fees, a training course, tools, moving expense, coal for winter, and for expenses of many other purposes.

You may repay your loan on almost any plan you wish. The table shows how loans may be repaid in 2 to 12 payments. The sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. Look in the table now for the loan you need. See how you may repay out of monthly income.

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 2 1/2% per month on that part of a loan balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100.

This rate is substantially below the maximum permitted by the Pennsylvania Small Loan Law. Lower operating costs permit us to give our customers the advantage of a lower rate. Compare rates and costs before you borrow anywhere. Why pay more for your loan than you have to?

If you can make good use of a loan, see us at once. Or just phone and tell us how much you need.

Board Secretary To Speak Tuesday

New Wilmington Conference Scheduled To Hear Rev. W. Bruce Wilson

Undaunted by threatening skies, occasional showers and tire shortages, hundreds of visitors made their way to New Wilmington Sunday to attend services of the 37th annual New Wilmington Missionary conference.

The streets of the town were lined all day with parked cars and every conference meeting place was filled to capacity. Three simultaneous services were held both morning and evening to accommodate the crowds.

The program of the conference this evening includes vespers services at 6:45 and the evening services at 7:45 in the college chapel. Miss Lois Kinman of Elbert and Miss Jean Lamont of Indiana will be the speakers at the latter services.

Mrs. Julia L. Kellersberger of New York City addresses the conference daily at 11 a. m., telling of her experiences and mission work among the lepers in Africa. Mrs. Kellersberger is a vigorous and entertaining speaker and has already won the hearts of the young people with her interesting stories and personality.

Tuesday evening, the speaker will be Rev. W. Bruce Wilson, D. D., of Pittsburgh, secretary of the Board of American Missions of the United Presbyterian church. Dr. Wilson, widely known throughout the denomination as a speaker of exceptional ability, has contact with all sections of the church in this country and knows the problems of American missions.

Shift Engineers To Military Site

Pennsy Completes Work On New Switching Point At Military Depot

The Army engineers, the architect-engineer and the contractor of the new Shenango Personnel Replacement Depot in Mercer county shifted headquarters from Transfer, Pa., to the depot site over the week end.

The Pennsylvania railroad has completed construction of a new switching point to expedite shipments of construction materials. The point has been designated "Victory" by the railroad and an agent soon will be appointed.

The Army engineers and Gannett, Eastman & Fleming, architects, started the transfer Saturday from a brick building in Transfer. Melton-Stuart Co., general contractors, moved there several weeks ago.

Scarcity of essential commodities and ineffective price control has caused an abnormal price advance in Finland cities, says the Department of Commerce.

In War Effort

Mrs. John McIlwraith, chairman of the Motor Corps of the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross, has issued a call for new members as the work of the corps is increasing to such an extent that the present members are finding it difficult to meet the demands placed upon them by the chapter.

"We have grown slowly and I believe wisely, but now, with Miss Fulton, home service director, and the case workers in her department being called upon to make night contacts at any hour, it becomes necessary for the present members of the Motor Corps to have additional help to meet a real 24-hour schedule. I am hopeful that my appeal will be met by young women who may or may not have the use of their own car, but hold a driver's license. These new recruits must, before being permitted to do the work assigned us as a Motor Corps, complete the Red Cross first aid course and have the fundamental training in stretcher bearing. There is also a mechanics course prescribed by the national director of the Motor Corps which must be passed, and also a home nursing course, which is not compulsory, but our old members find it has been most helpful."

"All women 20 years and over desiring to be members of this corps may apply in person at the chapter house for no information can be given over the telephone as it is necessary to eliminate as much traffic on our switchboard as possible," concluded Mrs. McIlwraith.

HELP YOUR GROCER
KEEP DOWN
THE COST OF LIVING

FOR MILLIONS OF AMERICAN FAMILIES there's a store that more than any other typifies this country's spirit of neighborliness—the corner grocery store. Through the years, you have depended upon your grocer for the wholesome, delicious foods that make the American family table the best in the world. You have looked to his store as a reliable supply base . . . to his knowledge of foods as your guide . . . to his fair price policies as your safeguard. In all these responsibilities your grocer has not failed!

Today, as quartermaster to the American family, your food merchant is playing an even more vital role in your life. For in addition to his task of helping keep this a well-fed, healthy nation, he shares the additional responsibility of maintaining prices at or below levels required under the government's Maximum Price Regulation.

Price Control is one of the most drastic economic actions ever taken in this country. It affects more individuals than any other similar governmental ruling before or since the war. It is the citizen's charter of security against rising living costs. And as a patriotic soldier on the home front, you have an obligation to your country to understand the regulation thoroughly!

The General Maximum Price Regulation says that your grocer cannot charge you more for certain goods than the highest prices he charged for those goods in March, 1942. Stores may charge less. Some will charge more for the same thing than others because the regulation puts a ceiling on individual store prices. And many basic foods are not controlled in price at all.

This means that your neighborhood storekeeper as well as the people who supply him are faced with many new and exacting problems. He has had to re-price his merchandise—hundreds or even thousands of items—according to ceiling prices based on his highest March prices. In the larger stores this is a tremendous task. And in the smaller stores—where the records may be incomplete—it is an extremely difficult one.

So give your grocer a break these days. For years he has trusted you—has accommodated you—has been your Good Neighbor Number One. Remember that he still is—that he wants to help win the war just as much as you do, and knows this is one way to do it.

But he's got a big job on his hands. He's got things to learn and understand just as you have—and in many cases he's suffering losses until the whole program gets rolling.

When difficulties arise, you and your grocer should try to iron them out in a friendly manner. When he does a good job, cooperates fully in the difficult task of regulating prices, compliment him . . . let him know that his good work is appreciated. Remember that your grocer is sincerely interested in keeping the cost of living down.

Finally, don't offer to pay more for things you want than the ceiling allows—or buy more than you need. And spread this word among your friends and neighbors. For hoarding may mean empty guns!

Remember, there is no lack of any essential foods. America's reserves are great. Her total resources for food production have not even been scratched. Restrictions now in effect are to prevent unequal distribution.

For more than 73 years, the House of Heinz has had the privilege of working hand in hand with the grocers of America. Today our relationship is closer than ever. In our research laboratories we are developing new products and new preparation methods that will assure a steady supply of fine Heinz foods. Like all products that bear the famous keystone label, they will contain only the choicest ingredients prepared in the small-batch, old-fashioned way to time-tried and treasured recipes.

So remember, you can continue to look to your corner grocer with confidence in the days that lie ahead. He will continue to supply you with the finest products of America's fields and orchards at the most reasonable prices possible! For that is his way of doing business.

Businessmen should not forget to have post signs near the cut-out switches if such have been installed. Whenever a cut-out switch is installed OCD headquarters should be notified.

Goshen's Meet To Begin Today

Tiny Village Buzzes With Activity As Date For Annual Hambletonian Nears

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The animals are ringing and the smithies are singing up and the village of Goshen today as a cavalcade of approximately 500 trotting and pacing horses scampers around old Good Time track in final preparation for the village's annual three-day trotting carnival.

Despite water restrictions and the gas and rubber problem, no shortage of fans from the big city is anticipated. In fact a couple of thousand extra city slickers may turn up, via bus, bicycle and pogo stick, to try and pick up a few tricks of the horse and buggy era, which they might have to know in the near future.

Whether the horse and buggy replaces the auto as the chief means of transportation or not, thousands of city folk make the trip to the tiny upstate village at this time every season, to revel in the country fair atmosphere of Bill Cane's triangular mile track and watch the outstanding trotters in the country.

As usual, chief interest in the meeting, which will open tomorrow, will be the Hambletonian stakes. This year's running is expected to draw eight or ten starters and will be worth about $40,000.

With the usual fried chicken, corn on the cob and other foodstuffs for sale in the big striped tents under the stands, and a shirt-sleeved, straw-hatted mob of good natured citizens jostling along on the mutual lines, the three-day meeting will be inaugurated today with a program headed by the $4,000 Arthur S. Tomkins memorial purse for two-year-old trotters.

Hawaiian Stars In A. A. U. Meet

(International News Service)

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 10.—Bill Smith, a native Hawaiian, today reigned as the outstanding star of the three-day annual outdoor men's swimming championships of the National Amateur Athletic Union.

In yesterday's finals Smith annexed his third title and also his second world record. He was clocked in 9:54.6 in the 880-free style event, barely beating out another Hawaiian, Keo Nakama. Nakama finished in 9:55.4. His time also broke the old world record of 10:07.6, which was established by Ralph Flanagan in 1934.

Smith now possesses world figures in the 440 and 880 and a new championship record in the 220. The national title, of course, goes with each event.

Atlanta Surgeon Cops Skeet Title

(International News Service)

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Dr. Leroy W. Childs of Lake Kerr, Fla., today attributed his feat of shattering 250 straight targets to win the 12-gauge national skeet title to concentration "learned in the operating room."

In winning his first national title the former Atlanta surgeon tied a national match record by hitting all 250 targets in the final three days of the eighth national championships.

TENNIS FINALS DELAYED
(International News Service)

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Men's and women's doubles and men's singles championships in the annual Eastern Grass Courts tennis tournament still were up in the air today, following cancellation of the final day of play yesterday on account of the weather.

Louise Brough, of California, who won the women's singles crown on Saturday, and Margaret Osborne, also of the California contingent, will encounter Pauline Betz, still another Californian, and Doris Hart, of Miami, for the women's doubles title at Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass., later this week.

Women Tee-Off In Giant Tourney

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—A field of 180 players teed off today in the 180-day quest of the 42nd annual amateur tournament of the Women's Western Golf Association at the Sunset Ridge Country Club.

Among the favorites were Mrs. Mrs. Russell Mann of Omaha, the defending champion, Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., runner-up last year, and Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., winner of the WWGA Open in June.

CUBS HIT HARD
CHICAGO — Russ Meers was the first Chicago Cub to join the colors when he enlisted in the Navy.

The rookie southpaw was the first on the Cub roster but actually the 48th in the club's organization.

Counting players on option and men on affiliated minor league clubs, Meers was the 48th piece of Chicago property to join up.

LIKES 'EM BIG
CHICAGO — Jim Wilson, Cub manager, is prejudiced against pitchers who are not 6 feet tall, with poundage to match.

"Little fellows can't scare a batter," says Jim. He like big Paul Erickson.

SHAMROCKS WIN
On Union field last night, the Shamrocks defeated the Fannins, 17-6, in an exhibition tilt. Ace hurling by H. Hike and spectacular hitting by J. Veronesi spelled defeat for the Fannins.

KEEPS IN TRIM
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Tom Judge, Indiana middle distance runner, is keeping in trim as a life guard at the Bloomington Country Club swimming pool.

MAYOR DISCOVERS THAT SUGAR AND SALT LOOK ALIKE

(International News Service)
MARION, O.—If he ever has to register for sugar rationing again, Mayor Russell C. Snare, of Marion, is going to do a little tasting.

In Mrs. Snare's absence, the mayor registered for himself and his wife. He went through the kitchen cupboards, computed the amount of sugar on hand and reported it to the registrar.

Mrs. Snare returned home and asked where he had found all the sugar reported on hand. He showed her.

"Well it looked like sugar to me. I didn't taste it; how was I to know it was salt?" he said.

Young Turks Get Air-Conscious

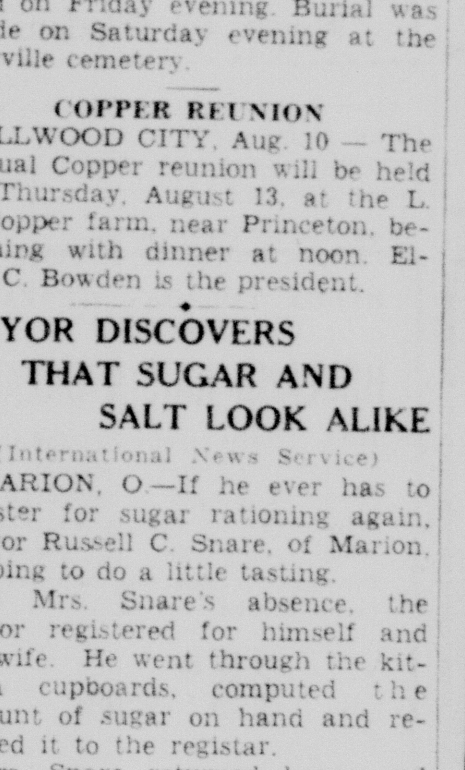

Turkish school children are shown parading with model airplanes as they participated in the eighth congress of the Turkish Air League held recently at Ankara. The league encourages pupils to design and build model planes. A feature of the Congress was the testing of the first training plane of all-Turkish manufacture, the Magister, a plane of British design being made in Turkey under license.

Red Cross Wins Praise For Aid At Rail Station

National Red Cross Information Work Done As Soldiers Leave

Praise for the splendid work being done by the First Aid group of the Lawrence County Chapter in taking care of emergencies at the Pennsylvania R. R. station as the local boys leave for service is contained in a letter sent to the National American Red Cross by C. I. Wetmore, agent of the Pennsylvania R. R. here, a copy of which follows:

August 6, 1942
New Castle, Pa.

Mrs. James Fieser
Vice-Chairman of Domestic Relations
American Red Cross
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

I am sure you will be interested in knowing about the splendid cooperation of the Lawrence County Chapter of the American Red Cross and of the valuable services they are rendering us in connection with the departure of boys leaving for army service, induction centers, etc. On the occasion of these group movements, you will understand that large numbers of relatives and friends come to the station to see them off and quite often it is necessary to render first aid, particularly to mothers and wives of these boys, many of whom are overcome with grief to the point where they require professional aid.

Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, Executive Secretary of our Chapter has been most gracious in offering the services of the organization, and for the past several months has been in attendance at all departures accompanied by an able corps of professional nurses and motor corps prepared to meet all emergencies. Their functions have been to go through the crowds and instantly detect any cases which need attention, also to look after small children and infants whose safety might be placed in jeopardy. Only a few days ago, the quick action of Miss Bodenstein and her assistants in administering proper aid to a stricken parent who had a heart ailment, resulted in the saving of a life, this later being confirmed to us by a physician who was called to the scene.

Needless to say, we have been greatly assisted by the Red Cross in this fine work and it is appreciated to the fullest degree.

Arrest Aliens; Find Shore Maps

FBI Arrests 33 Enemy Aliens In Cleanup In And Around New York City

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Navigation maps showing a detailed outline of the shore of Long Island, Connecticut, the Hudson river, Staten Island and Governor's Island and two high-powered telescopes were among contraband seized by FBI agents Saturday in the arrest of 33 "dangerous" enemy aliens.

The prisoners included 25 Germans, one a 40-year-old housewife; six Italians; one Japanese and one Hungarian. They were arrested in simultaneous raids in Manhattan, Queens, Brooklyn, Tarrytown, Larchmont and Mt. Vernon.

Several of the Italians admitted membership in the Black Shirt organization, Circolo Mario Morganti which, several years ago held a joint celebration with the German-American band at the Nazi camp at Yaphank, L. I. P. E. Foxworth, assistant FBI director, who announced the raid, said that their paraphernalia seized included three radios, one a short wave set; eight cameras and developing equipment; ammunition and a large quantity of propaganda literature.

The navigation maps were minute in detail, depicting every outlet and inlet along the shore lines where much naval construction is under way.

ON VACATION
Mrs. Wanda McBride, secretary to the county superintendent of schools is enjoying her annual vacation and left over the week-end with her husband for Chicago and points in Wisconsin.

ONE ROOM SCHOOLS
There are still a large number of one-room schools in the county, in spite of the fact that 18 consolidated buildings have been erected since County Superintendent John C. Sylling first came into the superintendent's office 24 years ago last May. At that time there was only one consolidated building in the county.

Most of the districts which have been financially able to build consolidated buildings have erected them, but many of those which were built in the past are now overcrowded and need additions. One of these in Neshaunock township was improved this summer by the addition of several rooms.

Some of the one-room schools are in bad condition at the present time, but the boards are not doing much about repairing them, hoping to see the time when they can do away with them entirely through consolidated buildings.

He's In The Army
No Draft Dodger

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10.—Private A. M. Littlefield, of Miami, Tampa and Seattle, was a much relieved soldier today.

The FBI had been hot on his trail for all of things, dodging the draft. Littlefield explained that he registered for the U. S. draft in Miami but, before he was inducted, he took a trip to Canada and had to register there for the Canadian army.

He was inducted into the U. S. army in June and was sent to Pittsburgh. Then he received a letter from his wife telling him that the FBI was after him.

"They were hunting me," Littlefield said, "for dodging the Canadian draft."
